

EXHIBIT 4.16. Time Dialogue

First Dialogue

Student One: Hurry up! We will be late for class!

Student Two: Don't worry! Class does not start until 8:05, and it's 7:55.

Student One: You're wrong! It's 8:02!

Student Two: Oops! You're right! I made a mistake. If we are late, Mr. Ferlazzo will give us an F! He's so mean!

Student One: He's a bad teacher! I am always happy when his class ends at 9:07!

Second Dialogue

Child: I want to eat right now!

Parent: You have to wait until _____.

Child: I've been hungry since _____. I want my food now!

Parent: I did not get home from work until _____. You have to wait!

Child: You are a bad parent! If you were a good parent, my food would have been ready at _____.

Parent: You made me feel sad. I am going to cry!

Child: I am sorry. I love you!
